Finally, a proven method in teaching Arabic to young learners

Hayaa Natakalamu Maan is a program based on the techniques and methods of teaching Arabic as a foreign language. It follows a communicative approach – the proven way to teach a foreign language.

In this remarkable program, grammar is introduced through functional situations – using age appropriate content and materials – such as story-telling, hand puppets and other selected materials designed to attract students' attention and develop their interest in learning.

The Hayaa Natakalamu Maan program is a complete three level program that provides students with a gradual development of linguistic skills.

The Program has 3 Levels:

Level I: develop listening skills, students will comprehend basic vocabulary, structure and expressions essential for everyday commands.

Level II: acquiring a higher level of listening comprehension and language production.

Level III: meeting the program objectives to be able to speak in a string of sentences, describing pictures and retelling stories.

The program has been used in the four NEW HORIZON schools in Southern California with great success since 2002. Level I was introduced in the ORANGE CRESCENT school in Orange County, CA with equal success this year.
